Young Eagles Rally

Sulphur Springs, Texas – Cadets assist Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) at KSLR

At their home airport, Sulphur Springs Municipal, cadets helped Chapter 1094 with administrative tasks, marshaled aircraft, and escorted children to their planes. Many thanks to the volunteer pilots, for getting cadets up in the air, too! Launched in 1992, EAA's Young Eagles program gives children 8-17 their first free ride in an airplane, the sole mission being introduction to and inspiration for the field of aviation.

PROMOTIONS

Congratulations to Cadets J Breidenthal, N Breidenthal and M Tully for achieving the ranks of C/2dLt, C/2dLt and C/Airman, respectively.

BASIC FLIGHT SCHOOL (BFS)

In early April, 2dLt L Breidenthal attended BFS, hosted by Group VI, as a cadet instructor. Traveling to Camp Crucis, in Granbury, she oversaw a flight of 8 cadets through the program, and her class covered aircraft instrumentation.
